

Inner Arts Collective - Etiquette Agreement

Client safety and rights are very important to our members at the IAC, as well as the Collective Admin.

To ensure that all clients receiving treatments at the IAC are met with utmost care and safety, we are asking each member to briefly review and discuss the following points with intake personnel. If there is any statement or point written below that is not made clear, please take this time to clarify these agreements.

- ≡ I understand the Inner Arts Collective (to be referred to as the IAC) is a shared space for professional practitioners to meet, work and see clients
- ≡ Every practitioner working at the IAC has clients that are all walking a different path, I extend my judgement and use my most caring manner when interacting with them
- ≡ I ask my clients to conduct themselves as best they can, in a similar manner of respect, and gentleness when interacting with others at the IAC
- ≡ I have read and agree to the Orientation Package
- ≡ I understand that through the IAC, my client can receive information about Client Safety and Rights, and have access to the Privacy Commissioner of Canada's contact information, to further educate them about safety and confidentiality during a course of treatment.

I have read the above document, and agree to the statements made above;
